A diagram showing a LEGO-based circuit. A motor is connected to a buzzer via a wire. A red arrow points from the motor to the buzzer, and another red arrow points from the buzzer to the motor, indicating the flow of current. A black arrow points from the motor to the buzzer, and another black arrow points from the buzzer to the motor, indicating the flow of current. A coiled wire is shown on the right.

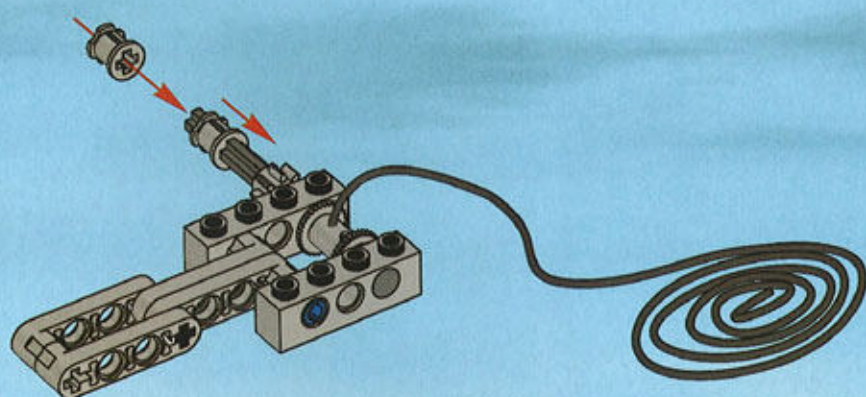

A diagram showing a LEGO-based assembly. A grey motor is connected to a black wire that is coiled into a spiral. The assembly is built using various colored LEGO bricks (grey, black, white, red, blue) and a black rubber band. Red arrows indicate the direction of rotation for the motor and the coiled wire.
